PROJECT CASE STUDY

In the past, our equipment storage room was a disaster. We had a number of uniforms, jerseys and bags disappear. No matter how hard we tried to save them, they disappeared.

Now our storage rooms can be open 24/7 and I'm not worried because everything is locked securely in a GearBoss cart. The GearBoss system is a good investment just because we simply will not have to replace lost uniforms.

We have 22 carts spread across three different storage areas. They (coaches) like being responsible for their own things and not having to worry about equipment disappearing. Our coaches communicate well when they need to share an air pump or want to borrow equipment. The GearBoss system really promotes this communication.

With all the financial concerns that athletic departments needs to worry about — whether you're building a new site or redesigning an existing site, the GearBoss system is a space-saving, organizing solution that will save you money in the long run. It's a no-brainer. I've already told three or four schools that are renovating or building new about the GearBoss system. When they visit our school, they say, "OK, we're getting this."
