PROGRAM PRIDE STARTS WITH GEARBOSS

Excellence, dedication, personal best and pride in the program are all key messages programs strive to demonstrate. We often hold our student athletes to a higher standard, yet too often equipment rooms and athletic facilities don't convey these same messages. GearBoss by Wenger allows you to provide an immediate visual message of pride in your program, through increased organization, team colors and logos.

- An equipment room that portrays excellence and pride through cleanliness and organization
- Add your team logos and colors to your equipment room
- From storage closet to front office, make every part of your facility reflect the pride of your program

GearBoss by Wenger will put the pride back in the equipment room with team colors and logos, organized high density storage and a flexible system you can reconfigure to your needs. No other system is so comprehensive in what it brings to your athletic areas.

"We bring every single recruit through our equipment room. In most schools it's nothing fancy, just a hidden warehouse that no one ever sees. We don't have that mentality – our equipment room is just as important for its "wow" factor as every other room in the facility. Our administration feels that way and so do our coaches."
